Oxford-Geneva Study Bursary 2018-19

The Europaeum is once again making a stipend available to support an Oxford graduate student to undertake a period of research study at the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies Geneva, during the coming academic year.

The Oxford-Geneva Bursary Scheme will award one Oxford graduate and one Geneva graduate €1,000 to spend at least three weeks doing research integral to their degree studies in Geneva/Oxford. The grant is intended as a contribution towards travel, accommodation and other related costs during the study period. Study can include periods of specialist library or archive work; supervisions with desired tutors; taught programmes; or field work, including work with organisations based in and around Geneva/Oxford.

Bursary holders are expected to be self-directed, and will need to negotiate their own study arrangements. Advice and support can be obtained by contacting the Europaeum Office in Oxford (euroinfo@europaeum.ox.ac.uk), or Dr Laurent Neury in Geneva laurent.neury@graduateinstitute.ch

The Oxford deadline for applications will be the 15th November 2018
